Audrey M. Harnett started training horses for combined driving as well as pleasure driving in 1995. She has competed successfully through advanced level at major combined driving competitions and has competed and won at numerous pleasure shows throughout the eastern part of the United States.

Audrey managed Hemlock Farm, a training/boarding facility in Ipswich, MA for 12 years. She has successfully worked with every size equine from minis to drafts. Clients who wish to learn to drive and do not own a horse may receive instruction from Audrey using her well-trained personal horses.

Audrey is now living in Weirsdale, Florida where she is instructing/training driving horses full time. Her teaching goal is to develop confidence in her clients and their equines so they enjoy driving and can compete successfully. Her driving philosophy is about having fun and staying safe.
